

Safety Highlights

The 25th Avenue Grade Separation project is underway between two Caltrain stations in San Mateo, California – Hayward Park and Hillsdale. 25th Avenue is currently the only grade crossing between these two stations and will be grade separated. Grade separated crossings enhance safety for trains and road vehicles since their travel paths are on separate levels.

Project safety enhancements have been included in a number of ways:

- improves safety for both motorists and pedestrians
- reduces local traffic congestion
- elevates Hillsdale Station with better safety and reduced traffic
- completes east-west street connections at 28th and 31st Avenues

The Hillsdale Station will be relocated and newly built as a center platform station (like the Belmont Station) between 31st and 25th Avenues in San Mateo, California. 28th and 31st Avenues will soon have grade crossings as a result of the recent residential and commercial construction on the east side of the tracks.

Safety enhancements have been included

At Caltrain, safety and security continues to be a priority for the benefit of our passenger service and community.
